Message from the Internal Auditor

Looking back at the evolution of the City's internal audit function from 2012 to 2014 is a bit like watching a child grow from infant to toddler to adolescent. I am pleased to report that we have matured the audit function over the past year and become more fully embedded in the organization's culture of accountability and transparency.

In March of 2014 we increased our capacity by adding a Business Performance Specialist to the internal audit office. This function has been primarily focused on business optimization, seeking efficiencies and service improvements. In 2014 we completed 5 business process reviews that were requested by management looking for ways to enhance service delivery to the community and control operating costs.

We were also able to complete 9 audits in 2014 which is quite an achievement for the City. Even more remarkable is that together with management, we achieved a 98% acceptance rate for all audit recommendations. I credit that success to our "Business Partner" model with management that is focused on solutions that work for all stakeholders.

It's shaping up to be an exciting year ahead in 2015. With our new Council and recent organizational restructuring we have many opportunities to provide independent assurance and consulting designed to add value and improve the City of Guelph's operations and systems of internal controls.

Our Enterprise Risk Management framework also grew up in 2014 and is now fully embedded in our strategic planning, business planning and project management. Last year we completed 7 risk assessments across all service areas and will continue to develop our corporate risk management abilities through workshops and staff training.

The audit work plan for 2015 is an excellent balance of value-for-money reviews, controls and compliance audits as well as comprehensive operational audits. We look forward to bringing you those reports throughout the year.

Sincerely,

Loretta Alonzo

Internal Auditor, City of Guelph

The Department

Who We Are

Internal Audit is a professional, independent assurance and consulting function designed to add value and improve the City of Guelph's operations and systems of internal controls.

Internal Audit brings a systematic, disciplined approach to evaluating and improving the effectiveness of risk management, control and governance processes.

The Internal Auditor helps Council and management to perform their responsibilities and advises on risk management, program and service delivery continuous improvements for residents and businesses.

"By identifying and proactively addressing risks and opportunities, the City improves how it protects the interests of the public. Identifying and managing risks is everyone's responsibility and is one component of good corporate governance".

Loretta Alonzo, City Internal Auditor.

Reporting Structure

Independence is an essential component to building public trust and preserving objectivity and integrity associated with the audit function.

To ensure this independence, the Internal Audit department reports functionally to the Audit Committee and administratively to the Chief Administrative Officer for the City.

These reporting relationships (as illustrated to the right) help ensure independence, promote comprehensive audit objectivity and coverage and assure adequate consideration of audit recommendations.

Scope of Work

Internal Audit encompasses the examination and evaluation of the adequacy and effectiveness of the City's governance, risk management process, system of internal control structure and the quality of performance in carrying out assigned responsibilities to achieve the organizations goals and objectives to ensure:

- Risks are appropriately identified and managed

- Actions are in compliance with policies, standards, procedures and applicable laws and regulations
- Resources are acquired economically, used efficiently and are adequately protected
- Programs, plans and objectives are defined, communicated and achieved
- Significant legislative and regulatory issues impacting the City are recognized and addressed appropriately

Quality and continuous improvement are fostered in the organization's control processes. The following graphic illustrates the roles and range of input provided by the Internal Audit function.

2014 Performance

2014 was a busy and successful year for the Internal Audit department with activities including operational and value for money audits, risk management, consulting and external reviews

Budget performance had a negative performance trend from 2013. The negative trend resulted from a budgeting error in 2014 and unattained internal recoveries.

Audits and review findings and recommendations can identify potential savings, cost reductions and/or cost containment

2014 activity identified the potential for $200,000

The cumulative total of all audits and reviews is a potential for $3.7 million

Internal Audit achieved 90% of the 2014 Work

Plan, completing nine of ten planned audits. One audit deferred to 2015 due to capacity and three audits cancelled by management.

98% of all Audit Recommendations made in 2014 were Accepted by management.

98% achievement of planned Staff development

2014 Achievements

The City is committed to identifying, assessing, and mitigating risks to ensure that corporate objectives are achieved. Part of the Internal Auditor's function includes Enterprise Risk Management (ERM). The ERM Framework is embedded organization-wide. It forms part of strategic planning, business planning and project management.

With a sound risk management framework in place, residents can be assured that due diligence and oversight of the public purse is focused on areas of greatest risk and potential savings, efficiencies and service improvements.

Internal Audits

The audit work plan is approved annually by the Audit Committee. To date the following audits have focused on controls and compliance, value for money or operational. The Internal Audit department achieved a 90% work plan attainment rate in 2014.

Audits completed and presented to Audit Committee ad Council in 2014 include;

- External Consulting
  - o It is important to note that the use of external consulting is not unique to the City of Guelph. While the audit identified a number of opportunities for improvement, the use of external consulting was within all Council-approved budgets and in compliance with the purchasing bylaw.
- Learning and Development
  - Overall the outcome of the audit is positive and confirms that the organization is managing learning and development very well in some respects. The current decentralized structure appears to be effective. The learning and development policy will be pivotal in addressing many of the audit findings, including budgeting and the findings around corporate software systems.
- Clerk's Print Shop
  - The audit concluded that while there are opportunities for improvement, the internal print room is an effective and efficient means of producing large volumes of copy and print material. Staff resources are sufficient to complete the current capacity of work however these resources could be better utilized to provide increased support to Council members and the City Clerk's office.
- Legal Services (Follow-Up)
  - A number of improvements were noted since the original audit was completed. Progress in implementing the audit recommendations was identified however there are still outstanding recommendations some of which are constrained by budget funding.
- CVOR (Follow-Up)
  - The follow-up audit identified significant improvements since the original CVOR-Fleet audit in 2013, there were some recommendations that remained outstanding and these require immediate corrective action.
- Corporate Communications Phase II Assessment
  - The primary objective of the Phase II Assessment was to conduct a work inventory of the positions identified in the third party communications needs assessment conducted in 2013.
  - It was recommended that Senior Management evaluate the data and conclusions of both reports before deciding on the future direction of Corporate Communications in terms of structure and functionality.
- Online Voting System (Testing)
  - o Testing processes and results were validated by the Internal Audit department.
- Compliance Audits on Cash Controls and Purchase Cards
  - Cash Controls audits found compliance with existing policies and procedures is excellent and controls were found to be effective and consistent in all locations, with an efficiency recommendation to consolidate and centralize City Hall petty cash at the front counter.
  - o Purchase card compliance audit was initiated in December 2014 to be completed Q1 2015.

2014 Achievements

Business Performance Reviews

This position was established in March 2014, this position is a corporate resource responsible for conducting business process reviews and related initiatives that drive continuous improvement and opportunities for business and process optimization in addition to conducting Internal Audits. There were five business process reviews conducted in 2014 and presented to management.

Parks Planning Process

- o This review identified that most stakeholders are very satisfied with the services provided, but have identified issues with consistency and timeliness.
- This review identified a workload vs. available time imbalance and a number of recommendations for improvements around standardization, performance measurement and process.

Environmental Planning Process

- The Environmental Planning and Development staff are considered skilled knowledgeable and dedicated in their roles. Stakeholders have identified issues with consistency and timeliness.
- This review identified a workload vs. available resource imbalance and a number of recommendations for improvements, including standardization and performance measurement. These recommendations will better position the department to provide services to the community on behalf of the organization efficiently and effectively.
- A review of the Environmental Policy function is underway in 2015 as phase II to the original review.
- Subdivision Development Process (engineering through construction)
  - This review identified two (2) processes for subdivision development engineering through construction. One where the responsibility for management and administration rests with the City and the alternative where this responsibility rests with the Developer, including the risks and benefits involved in both processes.
  - Process improvements were identified to better provide services to the community and stakeholders, on behalf of the organization

Land Ambulance data review

- At the request of management a review of EMS (emergency medical response) response time data, was conducted, for the purpose of validating internal data, reports and published statistics.
- The review identified that the response time data collected by EMS staff is accurate and compliant with the provincial standards for reporting these statistics. The review of budget documents and Council reports confirms that all response time data and related reporting is consistent and accurate and presented without bias.
- Chief Administrative Office administrative process review
  - A review was conducted to evaluate effectiveness and efficiency of administrative processes and assess staffing levels to determine resource requirements.
  - The review identified that as the Mayor's and CAO's office continue to grow to support the increased and complex demands of the organization and the community, it is essential to have highly effective and efficient administrative support. Issues of work distribution, capacity, skills and technology were identified in this review as opportunities for improvement.
