

Initial planning meeting request form

Before you submit a development application or attend a formal pre-consultation meeting, Guelph's planning staff is available to discuss your ideas or your preliminary proposal. We'll tell you which development application process is appropriate, outline any areas of concern, and tell you what kinds of information, studies, reports and other documents you may need to apply for an Official Plan and/or Zoning Bylaw amendment, minor variance or consent, draft plan of subdivision or condominium, site plan or part lot control applications.

To request a meeting please submit:

- A completed initial meeting request form
- A concept plan of the proposal, if available, (which includes the property location, boundary/property survey, proposed access, parking areas and existing and proposed building locations, building elevations)
- Any other information that may be applicable

At the meeting, planning staff will provide the applicant feedback regarding the proposal. All comments and directions offered by staff are preliminary and based solely on the information available at the time of the meeting. Additional information may be required after reviewing the development application, attending a formal pre-consultation meeting, and/or statutory public meeting.
