

Comprehensive Zoning Bylaw Review

Putting Guelph's vision into place

The City is reviewing its Zoning Bylaw.

What does a Zoning Bylaw do? It puts rules into place so that the community and developers know what to expect as neighbourhoods grow and change.

Cultural Heritage

Are you interested in:

- How the City uses its zoning bylaw to protect cultural heritage resources within the Brooklyn and College Hill Heritage Conservation District?
- How the City's zoning bylaw can help preserve identified views of the Basilica of Our Lady?

If so, read Chapter 12.

What's covered in this chapter:

- If you live within the Brooklyn and College Hill Heritage Conservation District, new rules in the zoning bylaw may limit building heights in your neighbourhood.
- Rules preserving the existing identified views of the Basilica of Our Lady.

Why this may matter to you:

- If you live within the Brooklyn and College Hill Conservation District, new rules in the zoning bylaw may limit building heights in your neighbourhood.
- The Basilica of Our Lady is one of Guelph's most recognized landmarks. Zoning is and can continue to be used to protect views to it.

We need your help to answer important questions like:

- Should the new zoning bylaw be used to protect cultural heritage resources such as building heights in Heritage Conservation Districts and views to the Basilica of Our Lady?

So here's what we're asking you to do:

1. Read Chapter 12 to learn more about this topic, and about options and preliminary recommendations for a new zoning bylaw.
2. Share your feedback with City staff in any of the following ways:
  - Sign up for one of our November workshops.
  - Drop in to one of the community office hours in December.
  - Tell us what you think online starting November 29th.
