

Advisory committee opportunity

This opportunity is open to residents of the City of Guelph or property owners in the City of Guelph

Position:	Waste Resource Public Liaison Committee
Length of Term:	1 year
Posting Date:	September 17, 2020
Closing Date:	September 23, 2020

Applications are being accepted for Waste Resource Public Liaison Committee members (three positions).

The Waste Resource Public Liaison Committee provides you with an opportunity to provide your input on the distribution, consultation, review and exchange of information surrounding the operation of the Waste Resource Innovation Centre. The committee reviews and provides recommendations on annual operational and monitoring reports, maintenance, compliant, resolutions and new approvals or amendments to existing approvals related to the operation of the Waste Resource Innovation Centre.

Advisory committees, local boards, agencies, commissions and associations, help the City of Guelph listen and learn how to make Guelph a more inclusive, connected and prosperous city. We are looking for new members and working to include more Black, Indigenous and other people of colour, people who identify as members of the LGBTQ2+ community or other underrepresented groups

Learning opportunities:

Whether you are a first time volunteer or you have years of experience you will:

- Learn more about local government.
- Participate in local government decision making.
- Give back to your community.

Meeting frequency

The seven-member committee meets quarterly at a date and time which is set by the committee.

Qualifications

- Applicants must be residents or owners of property in Guelph and at least 16 years of age or older.
- Additional consideration will be given to applicants who own or reside within 2,000 of the Organic Waste processing site, members of a non-governmental organization and members of the local business community.

With few exceptions, those serving on a City board or committee are not eligible for appointment to another board or committee in the same term. Please note that City staff are not permitted to serve as members on a board or committee.

Further details on eligibility requirements are listed in Section B of the City's Public Appointment Policy.
